

An aerial photograph showing a large, rectangular construction site in the center. The site is mostly cleared, with some areas of dirt and gravel. A dark, possibly waterproofed, perimeter is visible around the site. To the left of the site is a multi-lane highway with traffic. Above the site is a large, green, tree-filled area, likely a park or sports field. To the right and below the site are various urban buildings, including a large white industrial or commercial building. The text "その1工事完了" is overlaid on the image, indicating the completion of the first construction phase.
